

Disclosure of 2022 Major Donors

Street Sense Media is a member of the Institute for Non-profit News (INN), a network of nonpartisan, nonprofit news organizations working to ensure that all people in every community have access to trusted news. As a member, we adhere to the INN's membership standards, which focus on editorial independence and transparency. In keeping with these standards, we publicly report all individuals, private foundations, and corporations that contribute $5,000 or more in funding to Street Sense Media.

Amount	Donor Name(s) and Location
$51,000	Dan and Teresa Schwarts Washington, DC
$50,000	Lichtenberg Family Foundation Washington, DC
$50,000	Shared Earth Foundation Chestertown, MD
$43,000	Humanities Council of Washington DC (HumanitiesDC) Washington, DC
$35,000	Share Fund Washington, DC
$25,000	Sonia Galindo Washington, DC
$22,500	Gates Family Corporate Office Seattle, WA
$20,000	DC Commission on the Arts and Humanities Washington, DC
$20,000	Rapoport Family Foundation New York, NY
$15,677	Charles Koch Foundation Arlington, VA
$14,650	Nash Family Foundation Manitowoc, WI
$14,500	The Miami Foundation Miami, FL
$10,000	Daniel and Elizabeth Webber Alexandria, VA
$10,000	Sari Hornstein Washington, DC
$10,000	Shari Wilson Washington, DC
$10,000	Unbrecht Family Fund Washington, DC
$6,000	National Institute for Health Care Management Washington, DC
$5,100	Beverly Brown and Mark Fehling Bowie, MD
$5,000	America's Essential Hospitals Washington, DC
$5,000	Ann Simon Hadley and Stephen Hadley Washington, DC
$5,000	Ashley McMaster Washington, DC
$5,000	Molly Sampson Washington, DC
$5,000	Pivotal Ventures LLC Kirkland, WA
$5,000	Venable Foundation Baltimore, MD